

Jim Miller

Retirement Celebration

After thirty-four years of dedicated service to Missouri State University, Dr. Jim Miller is retiring at the end of the current academic year. Please join us for one or more of the following events designed to celebrate Jim's distinguished career.

Friday, May 9, 2:00-3:15 p.m. – Jim's "Final Lecture" Temple Hall Room 335

- Jim will give the final presentation in our Departmental Seminar Series for 2007-08 on "Using Trashed Fossils to Determine the Time of Meteorite Impact at the Weaubleau Structure, St. Clair County, Missouri."

Friday, May 9, 3:30-5:00 p.m. – On-Campus Farewell Reception Temple Hall Room 326

- Please stop by anytime between 3:30 and 5:00 p.m. to wish Jim well in his retirement. Refreshments will be provided.

Friday, May 9, 5:30-8:30 p.m. – End-of-Year Departmental Party Doug Gouzie's Home, 548 E. Montrose, Springfield

- Please join us for our annual "We Survived Another Academic Year" party. Burgers and brats served at 6:30 p.m. The "entertainment" for the evening will include some "open mic" time for members of the congregation to recount their favorite "Miller Stories."

Saturday, May 10, 8:00 a.m.-4:30 p.m. – Field Trip to the Weaubleau Impact Structure

- Jim Miller and Kevin Evans will lead a field trip for all interested parties to the meteorite impact structure near Weaubleau in St. Clair County. Transportation will be provided by University vans. We'll depart the loading dock area on the west side of Temple Hall at 8:00 a.m.
